

the HARLEQUIN

Zachary Schomburg

2

My sister and I made a fort in the living room. This does not mean I know the first thing about being alive. I once saw my shadow look like a reaper in a rectangle of hot white light. Because I can put on my clothes and take them off does not mean I can leave and come back.

from Agnes The Elephant

Thank you for reading! Find more at www.theharlequin.org.